

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. A
SYSTEMATIC CATALOGUE OF BRITISH
VERTEBRATE ANIMALS.

BY THE
REV. LEONARD JENYNS, M.A. F.L.S. &c.

CAMBRIDGE:
PRINTED BY W. METCALFE,
FOR J. & J. J. DEIGHTON, AND T. STEVENSON;
AND LONGMAN & CO., LONDON.

1835.

567.

PREFACE.

It is thought that the following catalogue may prove serviceable to those naturalists who are interested in the study of the Vertebrate Animals found in the British Islands. Whilst it offers a condensed view of the present extent of our Fauna in this department, it will enable collectors to mark off more readily such species as they possess, or desire to obtain. It is, however, principally intended to serve as a companion to a work which the author hopes shortly to publish, in which will be given detailed descriptions of all the species here enumerated.

It has been judged expedient to include the domesticated and naturalized species, as well as those extirpated animals of which any record exists in history, testifying that they were once indigenous in this country. The domesticated and naturalized kinds are distinguished by an asterisk (*); the extirpated ones by a dagger (†).

The species printed in italics, and having a separate numbering in brackets, are such as either have not been satisfactorily ascertained to be really British, although by some regarded in this light; or, which being true natives, have not been sufficiently identified with the species of other authors. From the mode of arrangement adopted, it is hoped that the attention will be more readily drawn to these instances, in which further inquiry as to their claims to insertion in the British lists, or further investigation into their true characters, is much wanted. Those families, genera, and subgenera, which contain only such species as are here alluded to, are printed in italic capitals. These families and subgenera are without numbers; but the genera have a separate numbering as well as the species.

As in general the species have the name of some author attached to them, it will be known at once what species is in each case particularly intended. Where, as in a few instances, a species has been referred to a genus different from that in which it has been usually arranged, a synonym is annexed, printed in italic characters, and enclosed in brackets.

In the Press,
BY THE SAME AUTHOR :
A
M A N U A L
BRITISH VERTEBRATE ANIMALS.

It is intended that this work shall contain accurate descriptions and measurements of all the Animals belonging to the classes MAMMALIA, AVES, REPTILIA, AMPHIBIA, and PISCES, which are to be met with in the British Islands.

Besides those which are indigenous, and those which have occurred as stragglers in one or more instances, it will include the domesticated and naturalized, as well as the extirpated species. The three last will be distinguished from the true natives by a difference of type.

It is also intended to distinguish in a particular manner those animals, whose claims to a place in our Fauna are not thoroughly established, or which, being real natives, are involved in some obscurity, from the circumstance of their true characters not being well understood.

It is hoped that such a work will not be thought uncalled for by those who are acquainted with the numerous additions which have been acquired of late years in this department of our Fauna. As these additions may be seen in the foregoing catalogue, which is intended to serve as a companion to the work in question, it is unnecessary to dwell upon them more particularly in this place. It may simply be stated, that upwards of six hundred species will be noticed in the Manual, besides about seventy of doubtful character, belonging to one or other of the two classes before alluded to. Of the former, it is believed that at least sixty are not embodied in any other work treating of the British Vertebrata.

In all cases where practicable, the descriptions have been drawn up, and the measurements taken, from the specimens themselves. In those instances in which it has been found impossible to do this, the name of the author to whom recourse has been had, is subjoined. Under each species will be given some of the principal synonyms, including in most instances a reference to a figure. There will also be annexed a few general remarks illustrative of its habits. The whole will be arranged systematically, and in conformity with the most approved views of modern naturalists.

The work will be printed in octavo, uniform with the "British Animals" of Dr. Fleming, and will, if possible, be comprised in one volume.
